

God Bless America

We are carried on the wings of eagles, lofted over towering mountains and sunlit plains.

We live in a land of splendid beauty carved by Gods relentless plan. A place to grow up in and own dreams, nurtured by a peaceful God fearing plan.

Great minds we are historically protected by. Great deeds have formed our lives. Great sacrifices we are indebted to and humbled by.

Our visions free to explore the unknown. Our creative minds being allowed to be liberated up towards the stars.

Children's eyes sparkle with fearless innocence and wonder, their minds forever asking new questions and challenging our old and dated ways.

The power that we have for good is only felt if we commit to our God given land to protect, provide, to never hide from our duty to be

A Real American.

And stand beside her and guide her for she is one nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.
